

Booger Bob is a creature that lives and grows inside your nose.
Should Bob accidentally slip out, he might just wind up on one of your toes.

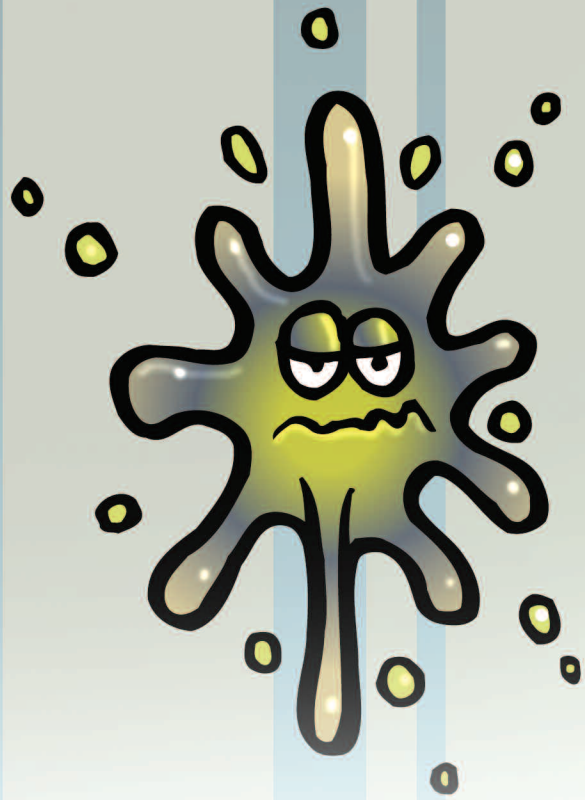

Some people pick and pick trying to capture Bob until their noses get sore.
Then they stare at Bob and his family before flinging them one by one onto the floor.

Are you someone who doesn't know what to do with Bob and then wipes him all over your sleeve?

Do you think he will evaporate into the air or perhaps that he is make-believe?

Are you one of those people who roll Bob up into a ball?
Do you hold Bob between your fingers and fling him against a wall?
